The 1934 DARKOW Landslide in Crookston, Minnesota — The Green Gables tourist center was established here by Paul and Dwight Darkow, later proprietors of the Country Club Motel, located in the same area. As picture indicates some of the Green Gables "took a drop."

EXPLOSION in Sampson's Addition April 22, 1950 during the big Crookston Flood. The blast at 606 Pleasant Avenue killed Arthur (Pete) Arneau and his wife. He was a city fireman. Their two children escaped.

LOG CABIN HOME of Gus and Christina Peterson, east of St. Hilaire — about 1890. They are grandparents of Mrs. Harold Larum of Crookston.

The Eldred, Minnesota depot, in early 1900s and used as a freight depot until 1974. Now is used for living quarters for migrants.

Leonard Driscoll and Son built this potato warehouse near East Grand Forks, Minnesota in 1961 to provide an outlet for the Red River Valley Potato Crop.

The interior of the Northland store in Northland Township in the early 1900's.

In 1908 the girls nail driving contest at Northwest School of Agriculture — Crookston.

In 1909 T. J. Owens driving 12 Horse and Mule team, on road grader.