Outstanding Alumni Honored at UMC

Four UMC alumni received the 1993 Outstanding Alumni Awards at the banquet held this summer on the campus.

Receiving the awards were:

- Kerri Utzinger Acheson, '74 business graduate of Moorhead
- Richard Hebert, '68 agriculture graduate of Stephen
- Andrew Miller, '82 business graduate of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida
- Douglas Sandstrom, '73 agriculture graduate of Longville

These four join an elite group of 69 other alumni who have been selected for this honor from over 5,000 graduates.

The Outstanding Alumni Award is the highest honor bestowed on UMC alumni by its alumni, UMC faculty, staff and administration. The award recognizes alumni who have displayed exemplary commitment and service to community, church, education, family and in their occupational field.

Kerri Utzinger Acheson

Kerri is on the faculty of Moorhead State University in the marketing department. She received her BS in vocational home economics and clothing from the University of North Dakota, her MBE from Utah State University and in 1989 graduated with a PhD in business administration/marketing from the University of Southern California.

She was the public relations director for the grand opening events for Dayton's at Columbia Mall in Grand Forks. Currently she is under contract with South-Western Publishing to write a book on an evolving area of the field of marketing.

She is on the board of directors for the Fargo-Moorhead Community Theater and serves on numerous committees at Moorhead State University.

Kerri has two children: Graham 9 and Tyler 5. While at UMC she was involved in the student senate as a senator and treasurer. She was a cheerleader, and "for a kid who had polio as a child, that was a thrill beyond imagination for me!"

Andrew Miller

Andy is employed with Club Corporation of America (C.C.A.), the worlds' largest company that owns and operates over 200 private country club and resort throughout the world. His career has been with C.C.A. since completing his MBA from Southern Methodist University in 1985.

Since January 1991 he has been the general manager of Inverrary Country Club in Fort Lauderdale, Florida which is a 54 hole private country club and resort that hosted the P.G.A. Jacky Gleason Golf Classic from 1971 to 1983 and the L.P.G.A. $1 million Marlboro World. Inverrary is one of the five largest country club that C.C.A. owns.

Andy was recently elected to the board of directors for the Inverrary Chamber of Commerce and is also active with the Inverrary Economic Development Committee. He and his wife Tracy have been married for seven years.

While at UMC he was active as a resident assistant, played varsity basketball and was the Snow Days King.

Richard Hebert

Dick was a member of UMC's first class.

He is the president and owner of D & D Commodities, TDC of Stephen.

From UMC he went on to attend school at North Dakota State University where he received his BS in agronomy. In 1987 he formed D & D Commodities LTD and has been expanding ever since.

D & D's main business is caged bird food and small animal food, among other products. His company has products in Wal-Mart stores nationally and has L'Avian Plus Products distributed through the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico. His company employs 20 people full-time in Stephen and also has sales agents in Kansas, New Jersey, Florida, Texas and Michigan.

Dick and his wife Carol have three grown children: Phillip, Christopher and Tami.

Douglas Sandstrom

Doug is a conservation officer for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Longville. He has worked with Conservation Education Days in Crookston and as naturalist at the Red River Valley Natural History Area. He has taught ornithology classes, deep portage conservation, wading and wading, as well as numerous talks to schools and civic groups.

He received the Meritorious Service Award and WCCO Good Neighbor Award for flood rescue work. He served on his church council, PER committee of local school, advisor to the natural resource department at UMC and boy scouts, among many other volunteer activities.

He is currently enrolled in Bemidji State University working on a criminal justice major.

Doug and his wife Darlene have three children: Wade 14, Shelby 12, and Kylee 7.

"The time spent at UMC has proven to be a very important part of my happy and successful personal and professional life."

Larson's Notes

Excitement abounds on the UMC Campus as we embark upon delivery of baccalaureate degree programs this fall.

Approval to offer baccalaureate degrees has brought a whole new set of opportunities and challenges to UMC.

A major challenge will be to achieve the benchmarks set forth by the Board of Regents as part of the baccalaureate degree approval process. (See Benchmarks on the next page.)

Benchmarks 1, 2, 3, 4, and 21 are particularly relevant to the Alumni and Development Office because they pertain to student enrollment which, in turn, relates to the need for funds to support additional scholarships.

Table 1, Enrollment and Scholarship Projections, illustrates the needed dollars for scholarships if we are to attract and retain the students necessary to meet the mandated student enrollment numbers.

From President Dufault

There were many folks who turned out to visit with old friends and help honor our outstanding alumni: Kerri Utzinger Acheson, Richard Hebert, Andrew Miller, and Douglas Sandstrom.

Looking ahead, I hope to see many familiar faces during our annual phon-a-thon. This is a great fund raiser for the UMC Alumni Association, and a good way to help out students with the scholarships we provide, the newsletter that keeps our former students informed of what's happening, as well as many other activities we help to sponsor.

As president of the alumni association, I am proud to be a part of UMC's endeavor to provide four-year programs to our students. This will be an exciting year. If the association can be of assistance please contact us. We are always looking for ways to keep our past and current students be aware of what UMC has to offer.

--Dave Dufault

Welcome back students and faculty! Fall is in the air, and it is prime football season which brings to mind the upcoming Homecoming festivities which are set for Saturday, October 9. Once again we will have our annual tailgater party before the game, and I hope to see many of you there!

As a recap of the past year, I want to thank those who helped to make our reunion in July a success.

Among all the good and exciting things that happened this past year there is also some sadness.

In May we lost alumni board member and RSVP director Harri Gamber ('73) when he succumbed to his battle with Cancer. In August Sam Bigger, assistant director of development for UMC and the Northwest Experiment Station, died from injuries suffered in a farm related accident. These friends and associates will be sorely missed by all of us. Memorial funds have been established to honor both these gentlemen.

Finally, thanks again for your support, and please contact us if we can be of service to you in any way.

--Allan Larson

BENCHMARKS ESTABLISHED FOR UMC

The University of Minnesota Board of Regents established "Benchmarks" for the Crookston campus. Additional benchmarks may be added to this list in the future.

- Enrollment and Retention
  1. FYE enrollment increased by approximately 7% each year to 1,165 FYE by FY97.
  2. Headcount enrollment increased by approximately 3% each year to attain 1,533 by FY97.
  3. Approximately 400 new high school admits and 100 transfer students enrolled annually by FY97.
  4. Student retention rates of 60% freshmen to sophomore, 50% to junior, and 40% to senior status respectively by FY97.
  5. 90% of graduates seeking employment are employed in career-related fields within one year of graduation.

- Quality Programs and Services
  7. Academic program improvement audit committees established by fall 1993 to review programs and courses on a three-year cycle.
  8. Learner outcomes established for all courses and programs by fall 1994 and multiple measurements implemented by fall 1995.
  9. Structured field experiences/internships required in all programs and completed by students by their senior year by FY97.

- Collaborative Partnerships
  10. UMC cooperative AAS programs with technical colleges expanded to serve more than 500 technical college students annually by FY97.
  11. Cooperative agreements established to receive/deliver a total of 50 courses annually within the University, Bemidji State University, Moorhead State University, the University of North Dakota, North Dakota State University, and Concordia by FY97.
  12. Six joint faculty appointments created between UMC and the colleges within the University and neighboring institutions by FY97.
  13. Bemidji State University, Moorhead State University, and the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities will offer extended programs on the UMC campus by FY97.
  15. Ten articulation program agreements established with technical and community colleges to insure appropriate transfer of student credits into UMC programs by FY97.

- Incorporation of Technology
  16. All faculty and students have computers, e-mail, and voice mail by FY97.
  17. Computer technology incorporated in all courses and documented in the college bulletin and course syllabi.
  18. Shared data bases, technology and expertise with 10 employers as an integral part of the career programs.

- Financial Accountability
  19. Cost per FYE decreases by 16% from FY92 ($8,348) to FY97 ($6,969).
  20. Tuition income from additional students reaches approximately $775,000 by FY97 and is used to support the additional needs for faculty, staff, supplies, equipment, technology, and telecommunication.
  21. Applied research funding which enhances rural economic viability increases to over $1,000,000 annually by FY97.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD GIVEN TO UMC PROFESSOR

Philip Baird, assistant professor of natural resources in the agriculture division at UMC, received the Distinguished Teaching Award from the University.

The Distinguished Teaching Award carries a stipend and is given in recognition of teaching effectiveness, student development and educational leadership.

Phil joined the UMC faculty in 1979 as an instructor and was promoted to assistant professor teaching in the natural resources and horticulture departments in 1986. His bachelor of science degree in outdoor recreation resources management and master of science degree in forestry administration and management are both from Iowa State University in Ames.

AG DIVISION SECRETARY RECEIVES UNIVERSITY SERVICE AWARD

Maria Sommerfeld, principal secretary in the agricultural and environmental sciences division at UMC, received the Distinguished Service Award.

The award, which is given by the University's Crookston campus, carries a stipend and is given for recognition of outstanding service in the field of civil service and bargaining unit employees.

For the past seven years Maria has served as secretary in the agricultural division. She is responsible for the secretarial work for 23 faculty and staff members as well as for the division chairperson.

NEW PHONE SYSTEM AT UMC

Have you tried to call UMC lately? When you do you'll find that UMC has switched to Direct Inward Dial. Now you can call any faculty or staff member directly without going through the switchboard.

If you have general questions or if you need information but don't know who to call, you may still call UMC's old number (218-281-6510) and the switchboard operator will help you.

If the person you are trying to reach does not answer, you may leave a message on "Voice Mail." Our faculty and staff will respond to your message as soon as they can.

To reach the alumni office staff, call:
- Allan Larson, director of external relations, 281-8436
- Barbara Weller, Torch editor, 281-8435
- Ardis Thompson, support staff, 281-8437
- Kathy Braukmann, support staff, 281-8439
Reunion Memories

Former football coach Darell Ramey shares a joke with John "Butch" Schleicher.

"Thanks, Brenda" for your hard work on the alumni association board of directors. Brenda received an alumni sweatshirt from Al Larson, UMC development officer.

Checking in at the registration desk -- Deborah Bolstad Epling, accounting and secretarial major from Elk River, and Peggy Lee Hilton, legal secretarial major from Seattle, Washington.

First year roommates -- Margaret McCoy, legal, administrative and wordprocessing major from Hastings, and Marsha Curtis Parlow, natural resources major from Maple Grove.

UMC/NWSA Golf Classic Nets $3,000

More than 90 golfers participated in the third annual UMC/NWSA Golf Classic at Minakwa Golf Club this summer.

Twenty local business firms sponsored the golf teams and 15 firms made contribution as hole sponsors.

About $3,000 in net income from the tournament and contributions from the hole sponsors and team sponsors will be used for scholarships at UMC.

Unfortunately, no one won a new vehicle in the Hole in One Contest sponsored by the local car dealers, Brost Chevrolet, Nelson Motors and Salem Motors. If a golfer had been fortunate enough to hit a hole in one on hole #6, he or she would have won one of two cars or a pickup.

Rooter's/Coast to Coast won first-place honors with -11. Team members were Don Forney, Wayne Melby, Mark Lyczewski, Al Solheim and Bruce Hanson.

Closest to the hole on #4 was won by Ralph Pester. Closest to the line was won by Mark Lyczewski.

The first women's golf team enters the classics. From left: Nancy Demmers Nelson, Kathleen McCann, Tina vonesh, Janna Hjelseth and Ronnie Ryan. Next year... how about a few more women's teams?

Closest to the pin in two shots was won by Dave Colborn. The "room for improvement" award went to the women's team sponsored by American Crystal.

Hole sponsors ($100 donation or more) were The Medicine Shoppe; KROX Radio; Otter Tail Power; Crookston Times; New Tech Computers; Phoenix Industries; Villa St. Vincent; Northland Inn; First American National Bank; Odland, Fitzgerald and Reynolds; Widseth, Smith, Nolting and Associates Inc.; Happy Joe's/Sub Shop; Crookston Festival Committee; RP Farms Inc./Dragseth Farms Inc.; LDDS/Dial Net and Midwest Coca-Cola.

Team sponsors ($50 donation or more) were Northland Inn; Crookston Implement; American Crystal; Northern Paving; McKinnon Company; Villa St. Vincent; Gasper Flying Service; Northern Lumber; Edward D. Jones; D&B Furnishings; Dahlgren & Company; Happy Joe's/Sub Shop; Rooters/Coast to Coast; Farmers Union Oil Company; First American National Bank; Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Home; Dickel, Johnson, Taylor, Rust & Tye; Riverview Health Care Center; Crookston National Bank; Ye Ole Print Shoppe; and Crookston Festival Committee.

Member of the Golf Committee were John Peters, Jerry Hasbrouck, Kyle Pearson, Dave Bang, Rob Jacobson, Ralph Pester, Mike Siekas, Jackie Holten, Johni Carlson, Marv Bachmeier, Harold Opgrand, and Allan Larson.

ENROLLMENT UP AT UMC

Early registration statistics indicate that full-time enrollment at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) is up nine percent over fall quarter last year.

Baccalaureate degrees are offered for the first time in the history of the Crookston campus, providing career-oriented education, primarily in technical disciplines. Well over 100 students are enrolled in third year classes, with a good number enrolled in fourth year classes.

High school students enrolled under the Post Secondary Enrollment Act taking classes at UMC and high school students enrolled in college classes taught at Central High School number over 100.

"This is one of the most exciting fall quarters I have experienced," said Jack Bywater, director of admissions and enrollment management. "As I visit with students, there seems to be more of an aura of excitement on campus than I have experienced in other years."

All full-time students at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) were issued notebook computers during fall quarter classes. Over 700, notebook computers were signed out to students this week. Computers for part-time students will be signed out for individual classes.

"UMC is one of the first institutions in the country to issue all students a notebook computer," said Donald Sargeant, chancellor. "Every class offered at UMC will have some computer component application."

Computer use will vary from class to class. In some classes computers will be an integral part of the everyday classroom instruction in the course, others will require students to complete elected assignments using specific software on a periodic basis, and others may require written assignments by using a word processing program.

The addition of notebook computers to UMC's curriculum was a long thought-out process—a decision reached after input from employers. Businesses indicate that computer skills are increasingly important for employment.

"UMC students will graduate with advanced computing skills as a result of extensive required use of the computer, giving them a "leg-up" on their competition when applying for jobs," said Robert Nelson, UMC vice chancellor for student affairs.

When you buy a set of license plates sporting the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) Trojan, you support the Academic Excellence Scholarship program on the Crookston campus.

The program awards full tuition and fees for four years to Minnesota high school graduates who show high achievement and potential. The Minnesota Legislature created this statewide program.

To own a set of UMC license plates, you pay a one-time charge of $9.75 to cover the cost of the plates, plus an annual contribution of $25 (for as long as you choose to own the plates), which goes to the Academic Excellence Scholarship fund on the Crookston campus. Collegiate license plate fees are in addition to your regular license fees.

To order a set of UMC plates, contact your local Driver and Vehicle Services office.

For more information on University of Minnesota license plates or the Academic Excellence Scholarship program, contact UMC External Relations at 218-281-8436.

Sam Bigger Memorial Fund

Northwest Minnesota and the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) lost a colleague and good friend with the death of Samuel (Sam) Bigger. Sam died Thursday, August 26, 1993, from injuries received in a farm accident at his rural residence.

To honor Sam’s memory, The UMC Campus is establishing the Sam Bigger Memorial Fund. The use of the fund will be determined in consultation with the Bigger family.

(Word was just received as we went to press that Norma, Sam’s wife, died on September 10, following a lengthy illness.)

Sandy Smith Fund Established

The Sandy Smith Northwest Experiment Station Employee (NWES) Dependent Scholarship was recently established.

The scholarship fund is named for Sandy Smith, wife of the NWES superintendent, Dr. Larry Smith.

The scholarship is available to all NWES employee dependents and may be used at any institution that the recipient chooses to attend.

Harl Gamber Memorial Fund

On May 4, 1993, Harl Gamber passed away after a courageous fight against cancer. Harl graduated from UMC in 1973 and in 1981 he returned to the campus as director of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

Harl’s influence as RSVP director had a significant impact on thousands of friends and others associated with UMC, RSVP and community programs.

Harl was also a director of the UMC Alumni Association.

If you wish to make a gift to any of these scholarship funds, please designate which fund and send it to The Development Office, White House Alumni Center, University of Minnesota, Crookston, MN 56716.

"I can't speak highly enough about my years at UMC. The individual attention I received from all the instructors, as well as the high quality of education definitely set the ground work for my career."

—Douglas Sandstrom
